Your future

Employability is not just about getting a job, it's about a broader set of skills that enable graduates to be successful throughout their working lives: it's about a career, not a job.

A degree is no longer enough

Employability is embedded in every programme and aspect of studying at the University of Huddersfield - London. Skills like team work, problem solving and time management will be valuable in your career.

Remain competitive

Even if you have experience working in your industry before starting your Master's programme, it's important to stay updated with workplace culture and the skills that make you stand out.

Achieve your goals

By combining academia with employability, you will have an edge over other candidates. You'll also have the experience to kickstart your career, so you can start working towards your goals sooner.

Invest in your career

The investment you make in your education now can bring you success in the future. This is your first step.

Your career

*Your degree is just one way to impress future employers,
we will help you gain international experience too.*

Gaining experience

We encourage postgraduate students to get as much out of the work opportunities available during their studies in order to stand out among other applicants when it comes to applying for graduate jobs.

Guaranteed interview*

We are committed to providing a professional learning experience and guarantee* a first interview with an employer.

Our employability advisers will support you in finding the right work experience for you in the competitive job market and provide support such as:

- checking CVs and cover letters
- help with application forms
- interview preparation
- regular workshops
- employer presentations.

Access our network

We have built a network of contacts at many businesses, who offer diverse roles and are always looking for new postgraduates with transferable skills. Working with a variety of people in a range of roles will give you the opportunity to learn from senior professionals in your field.

Work after studying

Start your career in the UK with the new Graduate Immigration Route – a two-year post-study work visa for international students graduating from UK universities. If you begin your studies after autumn 2020, you'll be able to work for up to two years after graduating with your valid Tier 4 visa.

*Please note - The guarantee of an interview with an employer is in no way a guarantee to being offered a job.

Learn from the best

Your teachers are experienced academics with a background in industry so you can gain knowledge and insight.

Supportive tutors

Your tutors will advise you about the options in your chosen field and may be able to introduce you to a wider network, increasing your chances of employment when you graduate.

National Teaching Fellowships

The University of Huddersfield is one of the UK's leading universities for National Teaching Fellowships, which celebrate and recognise individuals who have made an outstanding impact on student outcomes and the teaching profession in higher education.
